OMSCHRIJVING

Today's educational regime requires that a student develops entrepreneurial qualities during her studies. Making a Business Plan offers a solid and coherent step-by-step approach to writing a business plan. This book contains two kinds of assignments: activities and extra assignments. The reader is encouraged to carry out the activities in order to complete a business plan for a new company. The extra assignments help to provide a better understanding of the reality of starting a new business. This student-friendly book provides a simple introduction to a key stage of any entrepreneurship class as well as a guide for any student charged with developing an entrepreneurial mindset as part of their studies.
